

RED CHINA SOFTENS PURGE

END OF THE RAMPAGE: A man identified as Joseph Davis, mortally wounded by police, is taken from cafeteria of gun manufacturing company in New Haven, Conn., where he went on a rampage Friday and shot and wounded four employees, three of them women. Davis had been sought in the slaying of a woman whose body was found in another area of New Haven earlier Friday. (AP Wirephoto)

Health Of Millions 'In Danger'

Must Stop Polluting Lake, Says Senator

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Vance Hartke, D-Ind., Friday protested the dumping of sludge from the north branch of the Chicago River into Lake Michigan, saying the health of millions is endangered.

He said in a Senate speech that Army engineers are dumping into the lake large quantities of what he called polluted sludge dredged from the north branch for navigation purposes.

Demanding an immediate stop, Hartke said the dumping of the sludge about 13 miles off the shoreline "increases the pollution level of the lake and creates a menace to health and welfare of millions of people in the Chicago area and endangering Gary, Hammond and East Chicago, all in Indiana, and neighboring Wisconsin and Michigan communities."

Hartke said long range plans should be made for pollution abatement in the Great Lakes. Meanwhile he urged these immediate steps:

"(1) That the Army Corps of Engineers immediately cease dumping in Lake Michigan and

POLICE HERO: Police Sgt. John Widmann shows Chief Francis McManus the gun with which he felled man identified as Joseph Davis, who went on rampage and wounded three women and one man in cafeteria of gun manufacturing company in New Haven, Conn., Friday. Davis was dead on arrival at a hospital. Widmann moved in on Davis, crouching behind round table he rolled slowly across room. (AP Wirephoto) the corps no longer concern themselves only with navigation and flood control.

"(2) The Chicago Sanitary District and responsible officials be called upon to come up with more efficient disposal of waste materials derived from the vast population they serve,

Plan To Break Ground This Month For Motel

Ground will be broken this month for a 124-room Statler-Hilton Inn at the I-94 and M-139 South interchange in Benton township, Mark East, president of Inns Investments Inc., Benton Harbor, announced today.

East said he was making the announcement on behalf of himself and Barron Hilton, president of the vast Hilton Hotels Corporation.

The motel and executive center complex will join the Howard Johnson and Holiday Inn restaurant-motel complexes at the highly-developed interchange.

The Statler-Hilton Inn's facilities will include a restaurant, coffee shop, cocktail lounge, a sixth-floor executive club, year-around swimming and wading pool plus meeting and banquet facilities for 250, according to the announcement.

Opening date is set for early

1967. Subsequent construction of a six-story office building and cabaret theater is planned, East said, for a total complex cost of about $2.5 million.

Plans for the initial phase of the complex were submitted to the Benton township planning commission Thursday night.

Township Building Inspector Chester Shuck said he expects to issue the permit for the building next week.

Value of the permit, said Shuck, is $800,000, but he said the cost would run close to $1 million when plumbing and electrical costs are included.

Statler-Hilton franchise the operation of such motels to local concerns, East said.

"The motel then becomes a part of Hilton Hotels' reservation and advertising programs. Strict control over the quality of the operation is maintained by the hotel corporation to insure the public excellence in accommodations," East said.

FUTURE PLANS

The offices planned in future will be approximately 50,000 square feet in floor area, and the theater building will accommodate audiences of 1,000 or dinner groups of 650, according to East.

East said the building would be of fireproof concrete construction with each room opening onto a private balcony. Three elevators, mosaic tile and walls and rooms two feet wider than the industry average for new motels will be features of the construction.

Rooms will be decorated in Spanish Provincial and Mediter-

$650,000 Bond Issue Proposed

To Complete Berrien's Courthouse Project

Berrien County supervisors will be asked Monday to approve sale of $650,000 in bonds for completion of the new courthouse project.

Five Hurt In Riot At Muskegon

Police Arrest 27 — Out Of 1,500

MUSKEGON (AP)—Five persons were injured and 27 were arrested in a downtown melee early today after an estimated 1,500 persons, mostly Negroes, closed in around a police car answering a hotel trouble call.

Seventy police and sheriff's men, armed with riot guns and rifles, took control of an area in front of the Occidental Hotel, Muskegon's main hotel, and dispersed a mob. Officers split the crowd into three parts and moved each down a separate street.

A dance, attended by a predominantly Negro group, was being held at the hotel at the time.

Following dispersal of the mob, a jewelry store was looted. Seven men were arrested and charged with burglary and possession of stolen property. The loot included an $875 diamond ring.

Police said they fired several warning shots. Police Chief Fred E. Castenro termed the outbreak "a riotous situation" and "a major disturbance."

Muskegon, a west Michigan city of 47,000 population, has experienced racial troubles in recent months.

FIGHT AT HOTEL

Patrolman Rudy Ortquist, an off-duty officer, said today's trouble apparently began with the report of an assault on two white men by two or three Negroes and this report circulated in the hotel.

Patrolman Lee Medema, who was in the first police car which arrived at the hotel, said he was hit in the face by a fist after he stepped out of his cruiser to order a crowd to go home.

Ortquist, going to the aid of Medema, fired two pistol shots in the air and called for the reinforcements.

Officers said a yelling throng

(See back page, sec. 1, col. 7)

The new bond issue figure was set Friday at a meeting of the Berrien county building authority. It will cover furnishing of the new building, purchase of extra land in the courthouse area, construction of a parking lot and landscaping.

The $650,000 bond issue will push the total project cost to $3,225,000. A $2,750,000 bond issue was authorized in August 1964 for construction of the building itself.

If supervisors approve the bond issue proposal Monday, they will be raising their rent by $55,000 annually. Total annual rental the county will pay the building authority for the new building and grounds will be $250,000. This will be paid for a maximum of 40 years, or until bonds are paid off — whichever comes sooner.

Building authority members indicated they expect rent to more than cover payments on bonds. A surplus should be built up so some bonds can be called in early, they said.

NO TAX HIKE

The additional bonding will not mean a rise in taxes, building authority members emphasized Friday. The entire cost is covered by a tax levy approved by voters in September 1961.

The $650,000 figure, authority members said, should cover any unforeseen rise in costs between now and the time the entire project is completed. Several figures included in the completion cost outline are still tentative but have been estimated slightly higher than they are really expected to be, they said. Any funds remaining after completion of the project will go into a county building bonds fund and draw interest.

The bond issue proposal was outlined for building authority members by Robert Russell, First Michigan corporation, who has represented the county in both bonding programs.

Russell said interest costs of the new bonds should not run over five per cent. This is higher than estimates for the original bonds, but Russell said current tight money policies have pushed interest rates for this type of bond issue upward.

Lake Temperature

The temperature of Lake Michigan today is 63 degrees.

YOUNG HUNTER: Eight-year-old Philip Lane hoists a foot-long alligator that lunged across water and bit his boot while he played near a drainage ditch in Midwest City, an Oklahoma City suburb. No one seems to know where the alligator came from but where it's going is almost a certainty — the Oklahoma City Zoo. (AP Wirephoto)

SEEN HERE?

It's That Dirty Pink Bird Again

Did the displaced flamingo stop in the Twin Cities before flying to South Haven to strut in the Lake Michigan surf?

Mrs. Ralph Moore, 468 Higman park road, Benton township, said the bird pictured in this newspaper Thursday looked just like the one her son, Brian, saw earlier this week in a pond near the Moore residence.

Brian described the bird as having dirty pink feathers. He saw it resting in the pond, then the strange visitor flew away.

The flamingo at South Haven attracted crowds of onlookers at South Haven before departing. Conservation officials theorized the flamingo, a tropical bird, had escaped from a sanctuary or zoo.

Nomination Cost Soapy $278,000

DETROIT (AP) — G. Menen Williams spent $278,000 on his campaign for the Aug. 2 Democratic primary for U.S. Senator, an expense statement filed with the Wayne County clerk's office showed Friday.

Hard Line Is Failing In Asia

Peking Dragon Isolated In Commie World

By JOHN RODERICK
TOKYO (AP) — Confronted by spreading defections in Asia's Communist camp, the Chinese Reds indicated today they are easing their purge on the home front.

The official Peking People's Daily said in an editorial that the purge sweeping the mainland is an ideological political struggle and warned that it must not be resolved by force.

Moral persuasion based on superior virtue would be most effective in exposing the "ugly features of the bourgeois," the paper said.

The editorial apparently reflected a feeling among Peking's leaders that the purge has been getting out of hand. Unconfirmed reports from the Chinese capital said Premier Chou En-lai in a recent address at Peking University emphasized the need for greater leniency toward dissidents.

NEW COURSE

The appeal for a softer line appeared in the People's Daily one day after the North Korean Communist party—once a staunch supporter of Peking—announced that it is taking an independent course.

The announcement coincided with Peking's attacks on the Japanese Communist party which until recently had also backed the Chinese international line.

With the virtual elimination of the Indonesian Communist party by the military regime in Jakarta and North Viet Nam's tendency to walk a middle course between the Chinese and Soviets, the Peking party finds itself and its blood-and-violence policies virtually isolated in Asia.

The Indian Communists long ago turned away from Peking, leaving only splinter groups in Malaysia and Australia still in the Chinese camp.

NORTH KOREAN BREAK

The North Koreans were critical of the Soviets, particularly for failure to give greater support to the Vietnamese Communists, but their sharpest barbs were against China's refusal to admit Moscow to a common front.

The Pyongyang independence manifesto questioned China's insistence that it is the only, correct interpreter of communism.

Two top Chinese officials—Peace Committee Chairman Kuo Mo-Jo and Liu Ning-Yi, chairman of the All-China Federation of Trade Unions—loosed a blast Friday night against the Japanese Communist leadership of the 12th A-Bomb conference. They accused the Japanese Reds of "prating about united action" with Russia.

"This we absolutely cannot accept," said Liu.

JAPANESE REBUFF

The extent to which the Japanese Communists have pulled away from the Chinese was illustrated by disclosure of the New China News Agency that Chou En-lai's message to the Tokyo conference had been emulated by the conference leadership.

"They left out the parts exposing the U.S. imperialists continuous development and mass production of nuclear weapons," said the news agency. "Their collusion with the Soviet modern revisionist leading clique in actively plotting a 'treaty on non-proliferation of nuclear weapons,'" the parts stating that the Chinese people "have made up their minds and have made all kinds of preparations to take such peoples at any time and in any place as the Chinese and Vietnamese peoples deem necessary."

The agency charged that the conference leaders also skipped "the parts on supporting the Japanese peoples anti-U.S. struggle and the whole paragraph" (See back page, sec. 1, col. 3)

UNFURNISHED SHARP HOME FOR RENT. Ideal spot right on Paw Paw Lake. Private beach & pier. 2 bedrooms, oil heat, basement, large yard. 2 doors west of Littlefield's Restaurant. Call or see Jerry Wilson, 468-8330.

Adv.

INDEX TO Inside Pages

SECTION ONE
Editorials	Page 2
Twin Cities News	Page 3
Women's Section	Pages 4, 5, 6
Ann Landers	Page 6
Building News	Page 9
Obituaries	Page 10
SECTION TWO
Area Highlights	Page 11
Sports	Pages 12, 13
Weather Forecast	Page 14
Comics, TV, Radio	Page 15
Markets	Page 16
Classified Ads	Pages 17, 18, 19
Heaven Flower Shop will close	Aug. 13 — Reopen Sept. 6, Adv.

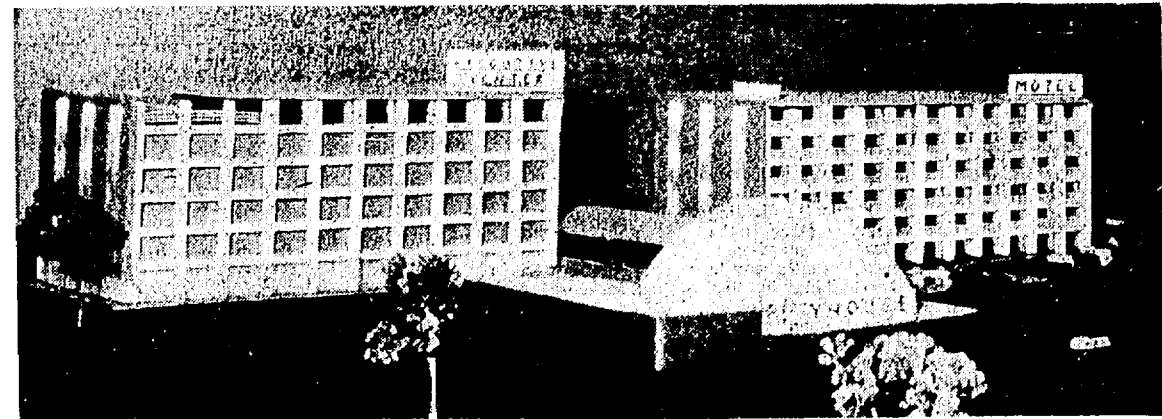

MARK EAST
tells of development

ranian decor, according to the plans.

LIQUOR LICENSE

The liquor license from "Blake's on the Lake" was recently approved for transfer to the impending development and was changed to a hotel license with entertainment per-

(See back page, sec. 1, col. 6)

MOTEL MODEL: This a model of the Statler-Hilton Hotel, construction of which is to begin this month on the northwest corner of I-94 and M-139 in Benton township, according to Mark East, local real estate developer. East said plans call for the inn to be open and in operation next summer. Only part of the buildings illustrated in the model above will be built in the initial construction phase, East said.

Keep Government Out Of The Air Lines Strike

The air lines strike, now almost 40 days old, is pumping up a ground swell for the federal government to rattle the contestants together with an eye to settling the dispute on any terms just so the planes will start flying again.

The ones normally the first to advocate such a course, namely the President and/or Congress, are buck passing the idea of a federally enforced back to work order between their goal posts at each end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

In an election year nobody in government is anxious to run with that kind of football for fear of what may befall him at the polls.

Yet, again with an eye to the feelings of the travelling public, Johnson and many Congressmen tossed out the possibility of Uncle Sam muscling the Machinists back to work if they rejected a White House sponsored settlement which tore the Administration's guide lines to shreds.

There's an anxiety to "do something," but no great enthusiasm to be a hero in that process.

Now that the Machinists have rejected an arbitration of the argument, the question is back to its original position of either the air lines and the maintenance crews bargaining some more or intruding Bib Brother government into the picture.

We say let the private parties settle this family argument. The strike is not a national emergency in the sense of a mass walkout by the Teamsters, the Railroad Brotherhoods or the unions representing the electric and gas utility workers.

The five lines involved normally carry 60 per cent of the air passenger traffic in the U.S.

Ray Leatz, our barber, may have been stuck for a while in getting back to St. Joe from a tonsorial convention in Washington and a lot of tourists are steaming over disrupted vacation plans; but most businessmen regularly using air travel seem to be keeping their appointments; the mails are coming through reasonably well; and military deliveries to the Vietnam front have not been impeded in the least.

So, is this a national emergency or is it an irritant to what really is non-essential travel?

If this sounds like George Meany, president of the AFL-CIO, speaking, all we can say is that it is a consensus from management people specializing in day to day battles with organized labor.

We also side in with Mr. Meany on another point he made this week.

Said he of any federal meddling in the dispute:

"If the government tries to force labor to work, we're taking the first step into outright socialism. A take-over of labor inevitably will mean a take-over of business. Then we'll all be under big government for all time."

Mr. Meany also interspersed the statement with a few choice comments which we would like to repeat here but momentarily we seem to have misplaced that particular edition quoting his salty estimate of the situation.

The Machinists are pushing demands way out of line with other labor contracts of a similar nature, but they are not shoving the country to the brink of disaster.

The air lines grounded by the strike don't want government interference. Neither should any businessman if he thinks through what Meany has said.

Johnson, if he wanted to, could probably unspool the knot by a woodshed chat with the Machinists.

His refusal for the confrontation may distress the tourists and those Congressmen who like to fly out of Washington for home fence repairing; but as Meany indicates, where's the emergency in that?

At the State Department, the problem is referred to as the "international migration of talent and skills." Less bureaucratically, it is the "brain drain", the draining away of brainpower from other countries, especially by the United States.

The reason for the U. S. role is clear. This nation, to continue its growth, needs modern men with modern ideas. But other nations need them, too, if they are to realize their own potential.

President James A. Perkins of Cornell, noting that 90 per cent of the Asian students who come to this country never return home, feels that their desire to stay here is understandable. In the United States, foreigners who have brains can swiftly achieve status, high pay and the comforts of an advanced society. They too often find that their homelands have no immediate use for their newly acquired, highly technical skills.

To correct the situation, Dr. Perkins wants U.S. universities to tailor the educations they offer to foreigners to fit more closely the needs of their own countries. Equally important, he would expand U.S. medical and professional schools to train more Americans.

In 1964-65, 28 per cent of the internships and 26 per cent of the residencies in U. S. hospitals were filled by foreign graduates. Their services are needed in their own countries, surely, just as the United States should be able to supply its own professional manpower.

Brain Drain

England's spectacular victory in the World Cup soccer final thrilled sports lovers everywhere. It was a triumph that lifted the spirits of Englishmen out of the clouds and into the bright sunshine.

Soccer is England's game. Yet England had never won the World Cup. In fact, it had never even managed to get a berth in the semi-final round. This rankled so much that the English eleven was often booed heartily by its loyal fans.

There is a parallel here with Canada's recent failures in world hockey championship tournaments which is being commented upon north of the border. Canadians boil over, inwardly at least, when their national team takes its annual thumping from countries which hadn't even heard of the game 30 years ago.

There is no lesson in England's victory, however, that could benefit Canada's national hockey team. England's team is, in the first place, professional. If Canada's hockey representatives were professional (the best players available), they would beat the proverbial tar out of the best Europe has to offer. It would be no contest.

England's victory was unexpected because at least seven other entrants were considered the superior of its team. In the end, fortitude, exemplified by a stout defense, and never-say-die courage won the greatest day the island giant killer has seen in a score of years.

Great Victory

England's spectacular victory in the World Cup soccer final thrilled sports lovers everywhere. It was a triumph that lifted the spirits of Englishmen out of the clouds and into the bright sunshine.

Soccer is England's game. Yet England had never won the World Cup. In fact, it had never even managed to get a berth in the semi-final round. This rankled so much that the English eleven was often booed heartily by its loyal fans.

There is a parallel here with Canada's recent failures in world hockey championship tournaments which is being commented upon north of the border. Canadians boil over, inwardly at least, when their national team takes its annual thumping from countries which hadn't even heard of the game 30 years ago.

There is no lesson in England's victory, however, that could benefit Canada's national hockey team. England's team is, in the first place, professional. If Canada's hockey representatives were professional (the best players available), they would beat the proverbial tar out of the best Europe has to offer. It would be no contest.

England's victory was unexpected because at least seven other entrants were considered the superior of its team. In the end, fortitude, exemplified by a stout defense, and never-say-die courage won the greatest day the island giant killer has seen in a score of years.

Keep Your Lions

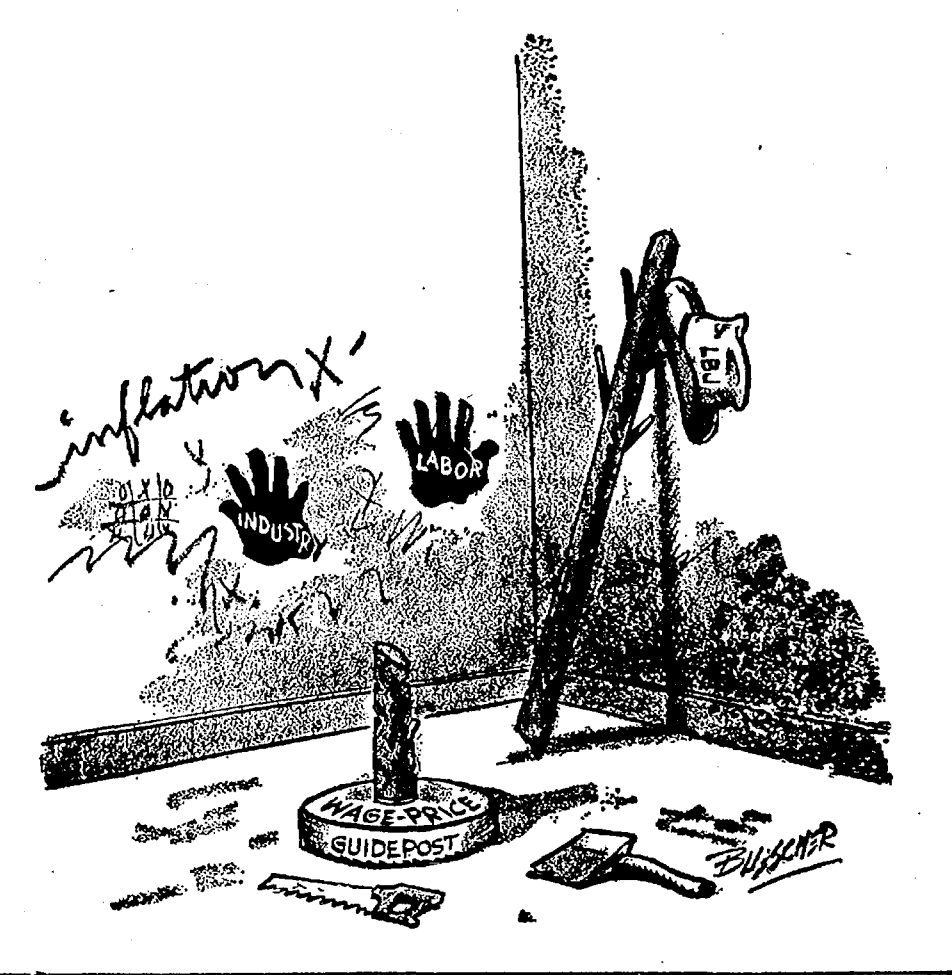

The deputy director of national parks in South Africa, R.J. Labuschagne, has completed a long tour of United States national parks and commented:

"South Africa's scenic beauty cannot compare with the Grand Canyon and other attractions, but we have lions and other animals which they would pay dearly to possess."

Now just a minute, Mr. Labuschagne. Lions Americans can do without. Buffalo, bear and beaver were good enough for the pioneers, and they're good enough for us.

Frequently those who put on the most style put off the most creditors.

FAMILY ROOM

Glancing Backwards In ...

THE HERALD-PRESS

EVERYTHING'S 'GO' FOR BATON CONTEST

—1 Year Ago—

The first annual national Baton Twirling association Class A River Valley Twirling festival will be held tomorrow at 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the Three Oaks high school. Miss Jill Whitaker, Three Oaks, is the contest director.

The contest which is expected to draw between 200 to 300 contestants from various parts of the United States and Canada, will terminate the week long NATA sanctioned All-American River Valley Twirling camp which is now in session at the Three Oaks high school.

YOUTH FAIR OPENING NEAR

—10 Years Ago—

Big tents mushroomed into place between the permanent buildings over the weekend at Berrien County Youth fairgrounds in Berrien Springs as the last minute rush of preparations started for opening of the fair on Wednesday.

Kenneth Stover, vice president of the fair board, said it appeared more exhibits than last year's record of 4,350 items would be poured onto the fairgrounds tomorrow by the youth of the county. The entries are registered the day before the fair opens.

AUTO PLATES RUSH STARTS

—25 Years Ago—

The rush for the full-year auto license plates is on in full swing, Mrs. Jane Sterling, manager of the local license bureau, announced today.

Owners of cars bearing half-year license plates have until August 31 to get their full-year tags. No new plates are issued until the old plates are turned in to the license bureau. Scores of applicants, Mrs. Sterling reported, fail to bring in their old plates and must return home to get them before they obtain their full year tags.

HOME FROM HOSPITAL

—35 Years Ago—

Mrs. George Swigert of Wayne street has returned from the University hospital, Ann Arbor, where she has been a patient for seven weeks.

ON VACATION

—45 Years Ago—

J.B. Dornier, assistant funeral director for G.M. Baitinger, is spending a week's vacation in Lansing as the guest of friends.

AT CONFERENCE

—55 Years Ago—

Miss Louise Lindauer, general secretary of the YWCA, Miss Ida Eckert, Miss Helen Clarke, and Miss Essie King, have gone to Geneva, Wis., to attend a YWCA conference.

NEW WATER TANK

—75 Years Ago—

A water tank having a capacity of 180 barrels was installed on the roof of the new addition of the Lake View hotel.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

Some months after our country became involved in World War II, playwright George Kaufman was summoned by a top Army morale officer and told they were confronted by a serious problem. They were providing respectable weekend entertainment for draftees, it seemed, but the boys stubbornly refused to attend, and sneaked off instead to bars and dance halls where pretty young ladies were not averse to providing companionship.

"What do you expect me to do about it?" asked Kaufman. "Give them something better," ordered the General.

Woe has befallen the smith College girl who eloped with a good-for-nothing hipster named Dust. Her irate father promptly cut her out of his will and wrote her, "Never darken my door again." Two months later she crept back home, however, beseeching forgiveness, but Papa was adamant. "Get the hell out of here," he thundered. "Dust thou art, and to Dust thou shalt return."

OVERHEARD:

At the Detroit Athletic Club: "My wife is such an enthusiastic shopper that any time she fails to visit her favorite stores for two days running, they all send her a 'Get Well' card."

Lady to pollster: "My opinion is that whoever is elected, my husband will be furious."

Inside Washington

By HENRY CATHCART

WASHINGTON — There is active speculation in Washington that President Johnson is setting the stage for pulling a rabbit out of the hat. This particular rabbit concerns tight money and extremely high interest rates which are dislocating the national economy and threatening to choke off the unbroken era of prosperity now in its sixth year.

There is a general belief in Washington that Johnson made a mistake last spring when he decided not to seek a tax increase as a means of tempering the overheated economy resulting from stepped-up spending for the war in Viet Nam. But there is also a general belief that a tax increase now would be too late and might actually result in increasing the chance of a recession.

What Johnson must do is find a way to cause interest rates to level off and trend downward in an orderly fashion without applying the brakes too abruptly. This problem is of the highest priority and is being given the closest study by his top economic and business advisers.

As a practical matter, there are only two elements in the present situation over which the Johnson administration has major control. One is the fighting in Viet Nam. The other is the level of government spending.

If Johnson could find a way to cool off the fighting in Viet Nam, it would have the effect of reducing government spending, which in turn would make money more plentiful and ease interest rate levels. Lacking this kind of break-through, there is one other way in which Johnson could reduce government spending — deferring some of the "Great Society" programs to a later date.

The form of the rabbit probably will be something relating to this latter situation.

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

speaking of YOUR HEALTH

By Lester L. Coleman, M. D.

It looks as if man-eating sharks may soon be paying off a part of their debt to human beings.

A group of surgeons from the Buffalo Medical School in New York have been in the Bahamas performing delicate operations on the brains of sharks found in the waters surrounding the islands.

The purpose is to learn how to overcome quickly the edema, or swelling, of the brain which is so dangerous to man after a stroke or an accident.

Dr. Louis Bakay and Dr. Igor Klatzo were aware that sharks recover more rapidly from injury to the brain, and they develop less than the expected amount of brain swelling.

First, they had to overcome the complex task of performing brain surgery on a shark. When this was achieved, the tissue was removed and quickly shipped to Buffalo for microscopic study.

Countless scientists all over the world are devotedly working to bring to us the greatest possible advances in prevention and treatment of disease.

Every additional bit of information that accrues from ingenious studies, such as this one involving the shark's brain, adds another link to the chain of medical progress.

A zippered case, quickly slipped over the head, may save many lives, if the early reports on experimental animals prove correct.

In principle, during certain severe emergencies, the zippered bag encases the heart and a bellows begins to take over the activities of the weakened heart.

At the University of Chicago, Dr. Rostik Zajchuk and Dr. William E. Adams have been developing this device and have used it successfully to support the heart and circulation for as long as eight hours.

Eventually, these successes will be transferred to human hearts to bring them support during their temporary incapacitation.

It is very difficult to decide whether an infant or very young child is deaf. The challenge has been met with a number of techniques, but not with consistent success.

At the Albert Einstein College of Medicine in New York, the brain wave test, or electroencephalogram (EEG), is being used on infants and children by Dr. Isabelle Rapin in order to differentiate between deafness, mental retardation, and brain damage.

This additional contribution is an extremely helpful aid in making a diagnosis of deafness.

SPEAKING OF YOUR HEALTH — Eye drops can become contaminated. Discard them after they have served their purpose.

These columns are designed to relieve your fears about health through a better understanding of your mind and body. All the hopeful new advances in medicine reported here are known to doctors everywhere.

Your individual medical problems should be handled by your own doctor. He knows you best.

CONTRACT BRIDGE ...

By B. Jay Becker

loser, but escape it he did and that is the point of the story. What Fishbein did was to deliberately avoid the diamond finesse, which would have cost him the contract, and instead play for a dummy reversal squeeze which gave him the contract. After ruffing the club, he played a spade to the ten and ruffed dummy's last club. Then he drew two more rounds of trumps, ending in dummy, to produce this position:

North
♠ A J 8 3
♥ 10 7
♦ Q 10 8
♣ K 7 2

South
♠ 6
♥ 4
♦ 9
♣ K 7 2

When dummy now cashed the six of spades, East was squeezed. He had to release a heart or a diamond, and in either case Fishbein had the rest of the tricks.

What South did in effect was to bring home six trump tricks — four high card trump tricks and two ruffs in his hand — instead of the five trump tricks clearly visible.

It is true that East could have spoiled the dummy reversal and subsequent squeeze by returning a heart at either trick three or four, but this does not in any way diminish the excellence of Fishbein's performance.

THE ANSWER, QUICK!

1. Give the correct collective noun for a group of fish.

2. From what is parchment made?

3. Give the correct collective noun for a group of whales.

4. In what play do the characters Sir Peter and Lady Teazle appear?

5. Who wrote it?

YOUR FUTURE

Make no important changes unless compelled to. Today's child will have many fine traits. For Sunday, Aug. 14: Wait out circumstances beyond control with patience. Today's child will be strong-willed, determined, sometimes obstinate.

WATCH YOUR LANGUAGE

ENCOUNTER — (en-KOUN-ter) — verb; to come upon or meet with unexpectedly; meet or contend against.

IT'S BEEN SAID

Of all the griefs that harass the distressed, sure the most bitter is a scornful jest. — Samuel Johnson.

BORN TODAY

A leader in the struggle for women's rights and suffrage, Lucy Stone was born near West Brookfield, Mass., in 1818.

A brilliant lecturer, she crusaded throughout the country for women's rights and abolition of slavery. In 1850, she founded the Woman's Journal as mouth-piece of the National American Suffrage Association.

She married Henry Brown Blackwell in 1855, but insisted upon retaining her maiden name as a symbol of feminism and to show her equality as a partner in the marriage.

Because women did not have the right to vote, Miss Stone once refused to pay taxes on some New Jersey property she owned, claiming it was "taxation without representation."

Others born this day include

today's GRAB BAG ...

By Ruth Ramsey, Central Press Writer

Cuba's Fidel Castro, composer George G. Gershwin, actors Bert Lahr, Buddy Rogers and Regis Toomey, pianist George Shearing, director Alfred Hitchcock, golfer Ben Hogan.

Born Aug. 14: authors Sir Walter Besant, John Galsworthy and Johann von Goethe, naturalist Ernest Seton, artist John Carroll, singer Buddy Greco.

IT HAPPENED TODAY

On this day in 1930, Capt. Frank Hawks flew from Los Angeles to New York City in 12 hours, 25 minutes, establishing a new record.

On Aug. 14, 1945, President Harry Truman announced Japan's surrender and the end of World War II.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. School.

2. Goat or sheepskin.

3. Herd, gam or pod.

4. "The School for Scandal."

5. Richard Brinsley Sheridan.

Factograph

Crows eat the eggs and young of other birds, especially waterfowl.

The Herald-Press

Published daily except Sunday by the Herald-Press Co. at 115 State St., St. Joseph, Mo. 64508. Second class postage paid at St. Joseph, Mo.

Volume 79, Number 190

W. J. BANTON
Editor and General Manager

MEMBER OF
ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited to The Herald-Press and also the local news published herein. All rights for republication of special dispatches herein reserved.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES

ALL CARRIER SERVICE — 50c per week

MOTOR ROUTE SERVICE — $2.40 per month in advance.

MAIL IN BERRIEN, CARS, ALLEMAN AND VAN BUREN COUNTIES — $20.00 per year

ALL OTHER MAIL — $25.00 per year.

ALL MAIL SUBSCRIPTIONS PAYABLE IN ADVANCE.

MAIL ORDERS NOT ACCEPTED WHERE CARRIER SERVICE IS AVAILABLE.

'CHIPS' HAS BIGGEST NIGHT; PARADE TODAY

COMPOSER: The wholesome enthusiasm of youth is reflected in this brother-sister duet as Bob and Peggy Tietz sing "Benton Harbor," composed by Bob. (Staff photo)

Family Plays Big Role In Centennial

Youth Writes Song Entitled 'Benon Harbor'

By JIM SHANAHAN
BH City Editor

The Tietz family is making quite an impression on the Benton Harbor Centennial.

Four Hurt In Berrien Smashups

Car, Motorcycle Collide On Niles

A near head-on crash on US-31-33 south of Scottdale and a car-motorcycle collision on Niles avenue, St. Joseph township, brought injuries to four persons Friday, Berrien sheriff's deputies said.

Three were injured when cars driven by Richard Wissler, 26, of 1073 Broadway, Benton Harbor, and Marie G. Long, 41, of 1202 Howard, Niles, met near the intersection of US-31-33 and John Beers road, according to Deputy Ronald Immoos.

Mrs. Long and two passengers, Geneva Killarney, 73, and Benjamin Killarney, 67, of 1405 Sheridan avenue, Niles, were taken to Memorial hospital in St. Joseph. They were reported in satisfactory condition this morning.

ARRESTED

Wissler was treated for cuts and scrapes and then jailed on a charge of driving while under the influence of liquor, Immoos reported.

Injured when his motorcycle and a car collided at Niles avenue and Ansley drive was Steven J. Howard, 21, of 1801 Elm Terrace, Fairplain. The cycle collided with a car driven by Mary L. Truman, 66, of 206 Ward street, St. Joseph, Deputy Ronald Schalon said. Howard suffered an ankle injury but was not hospitalized.

Arrested At Girl's Home

Johnny Chamberlain, 21, who lives at an unknown Highland avenue address, was being held by Benton Harbor police today on charges of attempted rape and drunk and disorderly conduct.

Chamberlain was arrested last night at the home of 14-year-old Benton Harbor girl, police said. Four young people were arrested outside the Campus Q billiard parlor, 888 Valley drive, by Benton Harbor police early this morning and charged with liquor law violations.

George Pipkins, 21, of route 1, Red Arrow highway, Coloma, was charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Show Ends; Cast Must Be 'Updated'

80 Units To March In B.H. Before Dances Tonight

"Chips Fell in the Valley" played its final performance Friday by attracting the largest crowd for the three nights of pageantry at Filstrup field.

An estimated 4,500 to 5,000 persons applauded the finale. While the crowd was pleased there were some notes of sadness among the cast of 300 in the Benton Harbor Centennial spectacular.

"They have really lived this thing and got to feel more like the characters they were playing than themselves," said Ray Mittan, Centennial chairman.

"It was amazing the way people with little or no acting experience were formed into a smooth cast to present this vivid pageant covering 300 years of history."

A big parade of more than 80 units was the major Centennial event today. The parade was to form on Market street and start at 3:30 p.m. toward 12th street, then onto West Main street. It will roll down Main and disband at Hall park.

Winning entries will receive trophies at 6 p.m. at Fairplain Plaza.

DANCES TONIGHT

There'll be dancing for young and old this evening — a teenage Centennial shindig at Riverfront baseball park and the Fraternal Order of Police ball at Shadowland, Silver Beach.

Robert H. Rockhold, Centennial business manager, said total attendance for "Chips Fell in the Valley" was approximately 13,000. Wednesday's performance was rained out.

End of the pageant means that Ed Ray is no longer Sterne Brunson, father of Benton Harbor. He returns to his role of city commissioner and businessman.

The House of David pepper ball trio of Ernie Selby, David Harrison and Barney Dalager looked so good they were reported considering a comeback. "But I don't think we could run," gasped Selby.

Mrs. Carolyn Niles Luebke can now prepare for the opening of classes at Benton Harbor high school after playing the role of Mrs. Eaglesfield, the grand dame of early fruit trading.

"They are just a very few of many who made 'Chips Fell in the Valley' a memorable presentation," said Mittan.

Bridge May Reopen On Thursday

Workers for Herlihy Mid-Continent Co. of Comstock were scheduled to finish pouring the roadway on Blossomland bridge today, which would permit re-opening Thursday.

Rain interrupted the concrete-laying operations Wednesday. Project Engineer Roy Long of the state highway department said.

It takes four days for the concrete to set after the pouring is completed. No vehicle traffic has been permitted on the bridge so the concrete can harden without vibration.

The original time table for opening all four lanes of the bridge is Sept. 1 but the job has been running about two weeks behind schedule and spokesmen would not predict when the bridge would be open on both sides.

Long said it appears that the two south bound lanes will be re-opened Thursday morning but that he would be able to tell better Monday after a weekend check.

B.H. Schools Seeking Drivers For Buses

The Benton Harbor school district is seeking bus drivers to transport students to classes starting Sept. 8.

Applicants can be either men or women, between the ages of 25 and 65. A chauffeur's license and physical examination are required.

MOST BEAUTIFUL BEARDS: Months of cultivation produced these beards, judged the choicest in the Benton Harbor Centennial. Winners (left to right) and classifications are James Gulliver, red; Fred Stock, white; Rex Sheeley, fullest; Emil Meyer, VanDyke; William Myers, black; Dave Upton, handsome;

Centennial Queen Sandra Granke; Jack Stakley, sideburns, and Gene Tomlinson, moustache. Runnerup to Sheeley in full beard division was Edward Merrill, to produce the cry, "You can't beat city hall. Both are city commissioners.

BEST DRESSED FAMILIES: Togetherness in Centennial dress brought awards to these families in costume judging Friday. Left to right are Mr. and Mrs. William Myers and their three children, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Meyer, Mr. and Mrs. James Aldrich and two children, and the Jack Stakley family of five. (Staff photos)

Hold Fourth Suspect In Kidnaping

Boys Abducted, Father Beaten

Herman Hugo Hunnicutt, 26, of Baton Rouge, La., last of four persons charged in the July 26 abduction of two young St. Joseph brothers, has been arrested.

St. Joseph police were advised Friday by an officer of the sheriff of East Baton Rouge parish that Hunnicutt was arrested Thursday. He, like his brothers, Thomas and Charles, and sister, Mrs. Addie Pearl Badgley, refused to waive extradition.

The four face charges of kidnaping, assault with a deadly weapon and breaking and entering an occupied building. Their arrests are in connection with the beating of Jonathan Badgley of 494 North State street, St. Joseph, and the kidnaping of his sons, Tracy and Randall.

Badgley and the arrested woman are married but have been estranged several years. She and the other two brothers were arrested in Georgia last Tuesday. The two boys were apparently with their mother but the Georgia sheriff who arrested her did not take the boys into custody.

The East Baton Rouge sheriff's officer told St. Joseph police no date has been set for Herman Hunnicutt's arraignment or extradition hearing.

Police Hunt 'Customer'

Whoever is trying out that used car from Twin City Chevrolet must surely know by now if it is any good. St. Joseph police and the owner of the auto firm at 316 Main street think it should be returned.

In an effort to get it back, County Prosecutor John Hammond and St. Joseph Municipal Judge Maurice A. Weber issued Friday a John Doe warrant charging larceny by conversion and unlawful driving away of an auto.

The auto was taken by a family Aug. 5. The man, identified only as Robert Williams, said he would return it in 15 minutes.

The missing auto is a 1965 Chevrolet Impala sport coupe. It is beige with a red interior and bears Michigan license 493D-80.

All Around Our Towns

MERCER P. FISHER of 2219 Lakeshore drive, St. Joseph, reported that he learned enough about sailplanes and gliders on a recent vacation to want to from a club in the Twin Cities area.

Fisher, who heads the international sales department of the V-M Corp., said during his vacation, he took a course in soaring at the Schweizer Soaring school, Elmira, N.Y. He said the course required 10 days, during which he made 45 flights over a period of 12 hours.

Fisher said anyone interested in forming a club should contact him for more information.

During schooling, he said, he qualified on two flights for Soaring Society of America badges for altitudinal release altitudes of 1,500 feet above the airport level.

More proficiency is required in soaring than operating a conventional plane with an engine, Fisher noted. Soaring craft have no engine to rely upon for a second landing attempt.

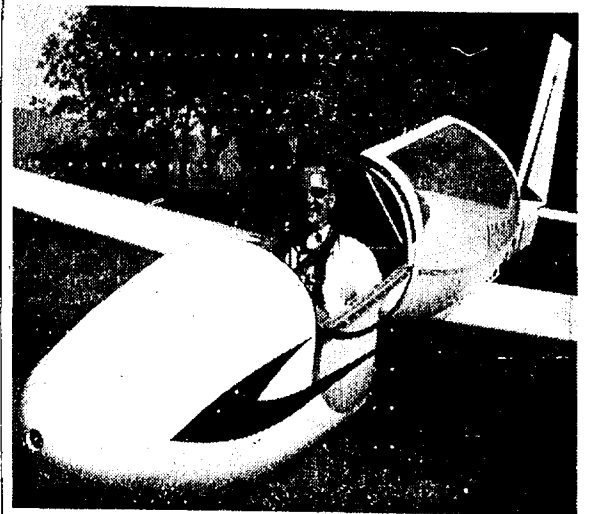

Fisher said a local club could be part of the Soaring society of America. He said his schooling was from a division of the Schweizer Aircraft Co., makers of sailplanes.

ERNEST F. TARZWELL

ERNEST F. TARZWELL, elementary principal in the Eau Claire public schools, will receive his master's degree in education next Thursday, Aug. 18, at 8 p.m. from Andrews University, Berrien Springs. Elementary administration, finance, supervision and instruction were his areas of concentration.

After receiving his bachelor of arts degree in secondary education from Emmanuel Missionary College, Berrien Springs in 1950, Tarzwell took additional work at the elementary level and received state certification in elementary education. He possesses both a secondary and elementary permanent certificate from the State of Michigan.

MERCER FISHER LIKES TO SOAR

Tarzwell taught elementary grades for several years at Benton Harbor's Hull school, followed by five years at New Troy high school, teaching social studies.

In 1959 he studied library sciences and audio visual materials at Ball State Teachers college, Muncie, Ind. He stayed in Indiana a year teaching social studies and was head librarian at Mt. Summit high school, south of Muncie.

The last seven years he has been with the Eau Claire school system. The first two he taught and was co-librarian in the high school. The last five he has been back in the elementary area and two out of the five years was elementary principal. During this time he was also going to night school, working toward his master's degree.

Tarzwell worked during the summer months for six of the seven years in the Display Advertising department of The News-Palladium Publishing Co., Benton Harbor.

MISS MARIE ARENT of 670 Territorial road, Benton Harbor, said she has not been able to attend any Centennial events. But she's not overly concerned.

Miss Arent is surrounded by bits of furniture and clothing that span the city's entire history.

Her own life spans the major part of the history, and she will mark her 91st birthday next Wednesday. She has lived for 56 years in her present home, and formerly worked for some of the city's early residents. Miss Arent relaxed in a chair she said was once owned by pioneer Henry Morton. It is reported at least 100 years old. The dress she wore, given her by an aunt, is about 100 years old. Nearby was a drop leaf table, also reported past the century mark.

MISS MARIE ARENT 91 on Wednesday

These, and other items were (See back page, sec. 1, col. 2)

ST. JOSEPH, MICH., SATURDAY, AUGUST 13, 1966

COUPLE DRIVES INTO TRAIN'S PATH, KILLED

NEW HIGHWAY GARAGE: This is the new Michigan State Highway department maintenance garage recently completed on M-89 two miles east of Fennville. It serves an area from Glenn to Holland and east to Allegan. Completed at a cost of $120,000 in July, the garage replaces an old garage at Ganges which the department rented. Bert VanDis, an employee, lowers flag in front of building. (Bill Barron photo)

Home Builders Pick Gardner As Leader

Organize Group In Berrien

Two Report On Trip To Capital

Formal organization of the Home Builders Association of Berrien county was completed by over 25 builders and building supply officials this week at the Youth Memorial building, Berrien Springs.

James Gardner, Route 1, Napier avenue, Benton Harbor, was elected president of the new organization, after the members named a 12-man board of directors and adopted a set of by-laws.

Other officers and directors elected are: Joel Grams, Benton Harbor, vice president; Dave Samson, Buchanan, vice president; Harold Rau, Benton Harbor, secretary; Virgil Tackett, Berrien Springs, treasurer; and Jerry Livingood of Stevensville, Carroll Ott of St. Joseph, Siegfried Ziekle of St. Joseph, Jerry E. McKinney of St. Joseph, John F. Schadt of Eau Claire, and Merrill R. Smith of Berrien Springs, directors.

During the meeting, Harold Rau and Alphonso Myers reported on a trip to Washington, D.C., where they joined over 500 builders from all parts of the nation asking Congress for act-tion to alleviate the tight mortgage money situation.

JAMES GARDNER
Elected President

Another report was present on the current status of the state contractors licensing law that will go into effect Sept. 1. New instructions for filing the necessary forms are expected in the local association office, 818 Ship street, St. Joseph, soon, and will be distributed to members.

Safety Film

DETROIT (AP) — A documentary film "Destination Safety," will be broadcast over 138 television stations Sept. 6-10, General Motors Corp. announced this week. The film deals with traffic safety.

Sanity Test For Lakeside Man

Accused Of Attacking Two Girls On Beach

A psychiatric examination is planned for a 21-year-old Lakeside man, accused of attacking two teenage girls July 25 at Grand Beach.

Charged with the attack is John Richard Helbig, Jr. Helbig appeared Friday before Berrien County Circuit Judge Karl F. Zick for arraignment in the case.

He is accused of attacking Susan Sladek, 13, of Flossmoore, Ill., and Kimberly Ann Warren, 14, Ann Arbor. The girls were camping on a beach near summer homes of their parents when a man approached. He suddenly began beating Miss Sladek. Miss Warren was also injured when she attempted to aid her friend.

GIRLS INJURED

Miss Sladek, the only one named in the official charge against Helbig, suffered cuts requiring 43 stitches. Miss Warren had five stitches.

Helbig's attorney requested that the case be remanded for preliminary examination. Judge Zick ruled that if a psychiatric examination revealed Helbig was not insane the case would be remanded.

Ruling on a motion to reduce bond also will await a psychiatric report. Judge Zick said he felt it was in the best interests of the public to maintain bond at $3,000. If Helbig is found to be sane bond will be lowered to $2,000, the judge said.

In other arraignments, Harry Gerring, 43, formerly of 1635 Broadway, Fairplain, pleaded innocent to an indecent liberties charge originally filed against him in December 1964. He was released on $1,000 bond Dec. 21, 1964, and no further action was taken in his case until recently. No reason was given for the time lapse in disposing of the case. He was released on bond pending trial.

Mrs. Mamie Jackson, 1164 Bishop avenue, Benton Harbor, pleaded guilty to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon, but stood mute to a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon. She was released on bond pending further court action on the charges.

Standing mute to an indecent liberties charge was Howard Mitchell, 48, Gallen. A plea of innocent was entered by the court and he was remanded to custody of sheriff's deputies pending trial.

Donald Carlock, 23, of 1320 Union street, Benton township, stood mute to a charge of writing three non-sufficient funds checks within a 10-day period.

Sparks Is Passed Over For Post

St. Joe County Picks Farm Agent

CENTREVILLE — Fred J. Henningsen has been hired as new agricultural agent for St. Joseph county to end speculation that Harold Sparks, one-time Cass county agent, might be given the job.

To make the choice, the board of supervisors Thursday had to reverse itself on an earlier decision to unanimously back Sparks and split on its approval to Henningsen, 12-11.

Sparks, who had been Cass agricultural agent for 25 years, was fired last year after he refused to accept an appointment to St. Clair county.

Henningsen will replace I. G. Rothney, who resigned as St. Joseph county agent. Henningsen, who was appointed in 1965 as Van Buren county agricultural agent, holds bachelors and masters degrees from Michigan State university.

He is to take over as St. Joseph county agent Monday.

COLOMA

Methodists To Decide On Parsonage

COLOMA — A special quarterly conference and congregational meeting will be held at the Coloma Methodist church at 7:30 p.m. Monday for the purpose of voting on the construction of a new parsonage for the church. The building committee will show the building plans and present cost estimates and plans for financing the project.

The building committee has selected the same plans as those used for the parsonage of St. Peter's United Church of Christ in St. Joseph, designed by Wayne Hatfield of Benton Harbor.

The building committee has spent seven months in study, including visits to a number of parsonages, before making their recommendations. Rev. Leon Andrews, church pastor, said.

All members of the church who are over 18 years of age may vote on the proposed project, Rev. Andrews said.

Eau Claire Church Sets Musical

EAU CLAIRE — A special musical program at the Macedonia Community church, Eau Claire, Sunday at 7:30 p.m. will feature singer B. William Austin of Bowling Green, Ky., a young missionary working among area farm laborers this summer.

Assisting Austin will be the Herbert Singers of Buchanan and Louis Joseph of Benton Harbor.

The public is welcome. Admission is free but an offering will be accepted.

Pair Thrown From Truck By Crash

Second Smashup Of This Type In Dowagiac

DOWAGIAC — A young Vandalia couple was killed instantly when the pickup truck in which they were riding collided with a New York Central passenger train at 3:25 p.m. yesterday in Dowagiac.

Dowagiac city police said Robert Stewart, 24, and his wife Geraldine, 20, Route 2, Vandalia, were driving east on Beeson street in Dowagiac when their truck struck the northbound passenger train.

The engineer of the train said that the driver of the truck did not look, but drove slowly in front of the train.

Police said the impact hurled the couple more than 100 feet from their truck. Parts of the truck were found 600 feet from the crossing.

Death was instantaneous, according to Rolla Schoff, Cass County coroner.

SIGNALS WORKING

Flashing signals at the intersection where the crash occurred were in working order, police said.

These were the 16th and 17th traffic deaths in Cass county this year.

This was the second car-train tragedy to take place this year in Dowagiac. The first claimed the life of Frank Lewis, 70, also of Vandalia, when his car struck a train at the Champs hotel crossing, approximately two blocks south of the Beeson street crossing, in March.

Mr. Stewart was born March 1, 1942, in Grand Rapids. He married Geraldine Reese July 3, 1965, in Niles.

Survivors include his parents, Ernest M. and Alice Lane Stewart of Vandalia; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. William Stewart of Marcellus; and two sisters, Carol Ann and Sheila Kay, both at home.

Mrs. Stewart was born March 7, 1946, in Cassopolis.

Survivors include her parents, John L. and Magnolia Noble Reese of Vandalia; grandmothers, Mrs. Clody Noble of Pine Bluff, Ark.; three brothers, Fred of Battle Creek, Frank of Elgin, Ill., and Kenneth of Chicago; and three sisters, Jeanette of Chicago, Barbara at home, and Mrs. Shirley Jean King of Vandalia.

Double funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Lyon funeral home, Dowagiac.

Burial will follow in Rose Hill cemetery, Volinia township.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 4 p.m. Sunday.

Seeks More Sanitariums For Priests

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The founder of a sanitarium which limits its patients to alcoholic Roman Catholic priests said Friday he is raising money to establish 10 more.

Austin Ripley, 70, said he came here to ask help from the Daughters of Isabella, a Catholic lay organization holding a convention.

APPLE QUEEN CONTESTANTS: Ten of the one dozen girls who will seek the title of Berrien County Apple Queen Tuesday are shown here. Winner, who will compete for state crown in December in Grand Rapids, will be named in contest at 8 p.m. at Berrien Youth Fair. They are, left to right: (front row) Joan Pfauth, St. Joseph; Fredricka Bradford, Watervliet; Pamela Cupp, Stevensville;

Carol Burbach, Eau Claire; Ruth Stoner, Buchanan; (back row) Julie Hercik, Baroda; Judy Pagel, Berrien Springs; Katherine Ann Schultz, Coloma; Mary Williams, Watervliet; Karla Kuehl, Benton Harbor. Not in photo: Georgia Geisler, Berrien Springs; Sandy Grinewitzki, St. Joseph. (Staff photo.)

Niles Man Killed By Gun Blast

Daughter Held For Questioning

NILES — Clarence Campbell, 44, 209 South Third street, was killed by a shotgun blast in home late last night. City police said his 16-year-old daughter is being held for questioning in connection with the incident.

Police said they were called to the Campbell home around 9:30 p.m. and found Campbell dead from one blast in the right side from a 16 gauge shotgun.

Campbell's 16-year-old daughter first told them a man came to the house and argued with her father in another room. Police said she told them she then heard a shot and saw a man run from the house.

Police subsequently set up a roadblock net from 10 to 11:30 p.m. but found no one fitting the description given by the girl. A little later police said Campbell's wife said she had argued with her husband and that the gun discharged as he tried to take it away from her.

Still later, police said, the daughter told them she instead argued with her father, took the gun away from him, and threw it to the floor where it discharged striking Campbell in the side. The investigation will continue today, police said.

They said that Campbell has a series of arrests for assault and battery and felonious assault and one arrest for attempted murder on his record and that he had been a patient in the state mental hospital in Kalamazoo.

SUNDAY VISITOR

BLOOMINGDALE — Howard Passage of Tulsa, Okla., was a recent visitor of his mother Mrs. Edna Passage, of Walnut street. He was enroute to Kalamazoo on a business trip.

Kalamazoo Bandit Linked To Berrien?

Twin City area authorities are speculating on the possibility a lone bandit who robbed a service station in Kalamazoo early this morning may be one of a gang that has been operating in Berrien county. The bandit entered an all-night Kalamazoo service station about 4 a.m., Kalamazoo police said. He pointed a sawed-off shotgun at attendant Kenneth Dauber, 40, and said, "Give me the money." Police said $225 to $250 was taken. No one else was in the station at the time and Dauber was not injured. The robber was described as a Negro, about 5 feet 10 inches tall, 160 pounds, with a red handkerchief over the lower part of his face.

Dowagiac Woman Is Slain

Husband Being Held For Murder

DOWAGIAC — Jane Thielmann, 24, of route 3, Dowagiac, Twin Lake road, was found dead in her home this morning of apparent gunshot wounds, according to the Cass county sheriff's department.

Being held on a charge of murder is her husband, Bernard William Thielmann, 31, deputies said.

Thielmann was arrested on a warrant written by assistant county prosecuting attorney Herman Saitz.

Deputies said the shooting took place about 5:18 a.m. this morning in the Thielmann home located south of Twin Lakes.

Heavy Eaters

SAGINAW (AP) — Thieves with a big appetite for breakfast made a raid Friday on a Saginaw warehouse. They stole two dozen oranges, two bushels of Irish potatoes, one bushel of sweet potatoes and 32 dozen eggs.

BUCHANAN

Farewell Party Set For Pastor

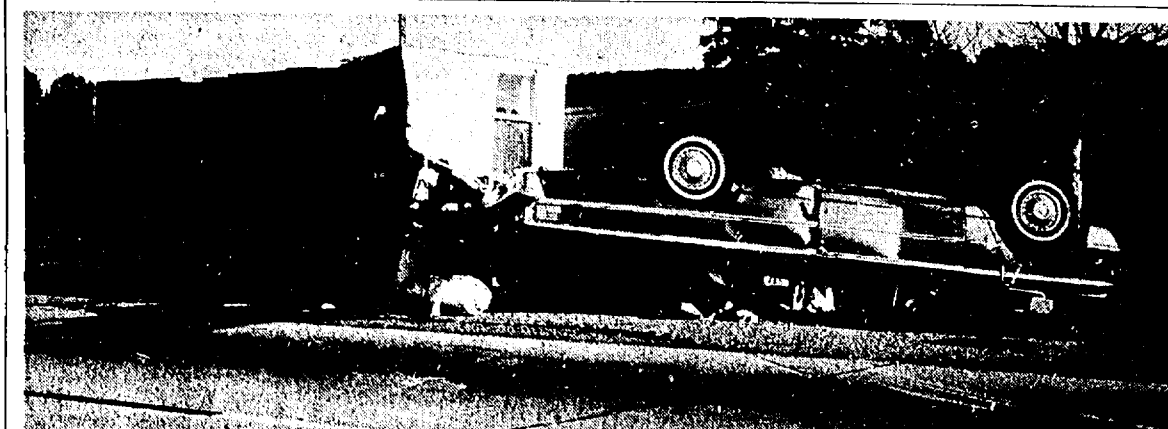

BUCHANAN — Members and friends of Portage Prairie Evangelical United Brethren church are invited to attend a dinner and farewell reception tomorrow in the fellowship hall at the church to honor Rev. Mark Matter, church pastor, and his family. A cooperative dinner will be served at 12:30 p.m. followed by a program.

Rev. Matter, pastor of the local church for three years, has been transferred to the pastorate of the Francis street Evangelical United Brethren church in Jackson, which is in the east district of the Michigan EUB conference.

Rev. Haldon Ferris, who has been serving in Benton Harbor, will succeed Rev. Matter at the Portage Prairie church. He is a student at North Central Theological seminary at Naperville, Ill., and will assume his duties in Buchanan on Aug. 21.

FISHERMAN DROWNS

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP) — Roscoe Curran, 55, of Mount Clemens, drowned Friday while fishing in the St. Clair River near Mount Clemens.

SPOILED VACATION: No one was injured when this car went out of control yesterday morning on I-94 a mile east of Mattawan, but the vacation plans of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Kellner and their three children, of Detroit, were spoiled. State police said Mrs. Kellner told them their car began to sway and she lost control. Children Candace, 19, Karen, 17, and Kevin, 10, were riding in trailer, according to officers, but all escaped unharmed. (Staff photo.)

Free Swim Lessons Will Begin

Sponsored By Local Red Cross

BUCHANAN — Two weeks of free swimming lessons sponsored by the Berrien county chapter of the American Red Cross will begin Monday at Ronnie's pavilion on the west side of Clear lake near Buchanan. Daily lessons will be held through Aug. 26.

Beginners, advanced beginners, intermediate and advanced swimmer classes are offered, and if sufficient interest is shown junior and senior life-saving classes will be available. Miss Lynn Joseph, an authorized Red Cross water safety instructor, will conduct the classes.

Registration will be taken the opening day, or persons may call the Red Cross offices at either Benton Harbor or Niles. There is no age limit for participants.

Clothing Donations Are Asked

With the opening of school less than a month away, an appeal is being made for clothing for school children of all ages through the "People Helping People" program.

Anyone having such clothing including dresses, skirts, blouses, pants, shirts, jackets, sweaters, socks, pajamas, coats, and shoes are asked to leave them at the Seventh-day Adventist center, 1626 Langley avenue, St. Joseph, rear entrance; Seventh-day Adventist center, 1021 Hall street, Benton Harbor; or the American Red Cross office, 244 Pipestone street, Benton Harbor.

For clothing pickups Mrs. Robert Ringer, director of the St. Joseph center, may be contacted a 468-3373; Mrs. Irene Washington, assistant director, Benton Harbor center, WA 5-3152; or the Red Cross office, WA 5-0018.

Always needed for distribution are infants' wear and diapers; adults' clothing suitable for work; and household items such as blankets, quilts, towels, dishes, silverware, pots and pans, and furniture.

TO HAVE REUNION

BUCHANAN — The 12th reunion of descendants of Henry and Mona Dellinger will be held tomorrow at Riverview park, grove two, near St. Joseph, with a potluck dinner to be served at noon. Jack VanOrman, president, will be in charge of the business meeting and Mr. and Mrs. Ollen Baldwin and Mrs. Everett Baughman will arrange the entertainment.

